Art Grain – An art walk through the neighbourhood of Körnerkiez

Friday, 11th October 2013

As the autumn days draw near Art Grain invites the curious and the interested to explore the ever evolving artistic neighbourhood of Körnerkiez for the fourth year in a row. During one evening and in five tours we will guide visitors to seven hot spots of artistic and cultural production as varied as the neighbourhood itself. From small rarely accessible private studios to long established galleries, the public will get a personal introduction to different venues for art production and representation. Amongst others these include the state-funded Galerie im Körnerpark, independent project spaces like e116, or new artists like Mara Diener's 'Le Quartier' and Masaki Yada's studio in Emser Strasse 129.

The once little known neighbourhood of Körnerkiez has become a productive area where creatives from Berlin, Germany, and all over the world have found a new home. Art Grain invites art interested people, curators and collectors, neighbours and wanderers to discover these venues in a personal and close-up way.

During and after the tour the visitors will have time to engage in conversations with the artists and curators, find out more about the neighbourhood and celebrate art and life at the After-Walk-Party at WerkStadt.
